Long Wait For Free, Fair, Credible Elections

| Sunday Odibashi |

THE year 2023 is crucial in Nigeria's checkered electoral history. It's the third time in the country's experiment with democratic practice that an elected President will be handing over power to a successor in an orderly manner.

The elected government of the First Republic (1960-1966) was aborted through a bloody Military coup that snowballed into the Nigerian Civil War (1967-1970), and a long spell of Military regime that ended in 1999.

The Second Republic that's supervised by the Military in 1979 lasted only four years before it's overthrown by another Military coup in December of 1983.

That junta was to last till 1993, but the same Military rulers that foisted a quasi Military-cum-civilian contraption of a Third Republic annulled the presidential election it'd ordered in 1993, thus further prolonging the Military rule till 1999 when the subsisting Fourth Republic was born.

By May 29, 2023, the Fourth Republic would've been 24 years of an unbroken civilian government since 1999. That's the record that the incumbent administration of President Muhammadu Buhari is striving to extend by delivering a free, fair, credible, transparent and acceptable General Election in 2023.

Save the annulled 1993 Presidential Election that's adjudged - even by global standards - as the freest, fairest and most credible, no other balloting has met the minimum threshold of credibility and acceptability.

Hence, the 1993 poll, won by businessman-turned politician, Chief Moshood Kashimawo Olawale Abiola (MKO for short), who died in detention while fighting to reclaim his annulled mandate, is described as a "watershed" in Nigeria's electoral history."

Manipulation of the process has tainted past elections, particularly those conducted in 1983, 2003 and 2007, with the late President Umaru Musa Yar'Adua admitting corruption in the 2007 election that brought him to power.

Because of their associated malpractice, elections in Nigeria have always generated controversies, resulting in challenges in the courts - that've become the norm rather than the exception - through the election petitions tribunals up to the Supreme Court.

If the process of the elections is in doubt, its outcome will be doubtful, leading, most times, to rejection of poll results even if their conduct has a semblance of credibility. The bottom line is that such results do not reflect the true wishes and expectations of the people at the polls.

Owing to proven cases of manipulation, and irregularities in elections, the courts have had to intervene by making consequential judicial pronouncements of cancelling officially-declared results by the electoral umpire.

With the exception of the 2015 poll - in which incumbent President Goodluck Jonathan accepted his defeat even before the result was declared - every presidential election from 2003 to 2019 was challenged in court, especially by the first runner-up political party and its candidate.

Although no presidential election has been

Muhammadu Buhari

Goodluck Jonathan

upturned by the courts in Nigeria, governorship elections in several states have been overturned wholesale or partially annulled, and fresh polls ordered to cure the defects.

Due to alleged instances of malpractice at the polls since the return of democracy in 1999, the courts have removed governors in Edo, Ondo, Ekiti, Osun, Kogi, Bayelsa, Anambra and Imo states.

The consequence is the alteration in the election calendar of the Independent National Electoral Commission (INEC), and the change in dates of the governorship elections in the states, and the periods of tenure of the governors from the regular tenures of other states as started in 1999.

The 2007 general election was proclaimed as the worst since 1999, such that the principal beneficiary of the election, the late President Yar'Adua, admitted the flaws in the polls, and promised to reform the electoral system, to chart a new course of free, fair, credible and transparent elections in the country.

Although Yar'Adua couldn't complete the proposed reforms, as he died in 2010 after a prolonged ailment that preceded his election in 2007, his successor, President Jonathan, followed through with the reforms, leading to the amended Electoral Act 2015.

Subsequent efforts to further amend the 2015 Electoral Act for the 2019 general election were unsuccessful, as President Buhari declined to sign into law the Electoral Amendment Bill 2018 that's passed by the 8th National Assembly (2015-2019) under Senate President Bukola Saraki.

President Buhari, in a letter to the National Assembly, explained his reasons for rejection of the amended Electoral Act, particularly as its sanctioning would impact the preparations and conduct of the 2019 elections.

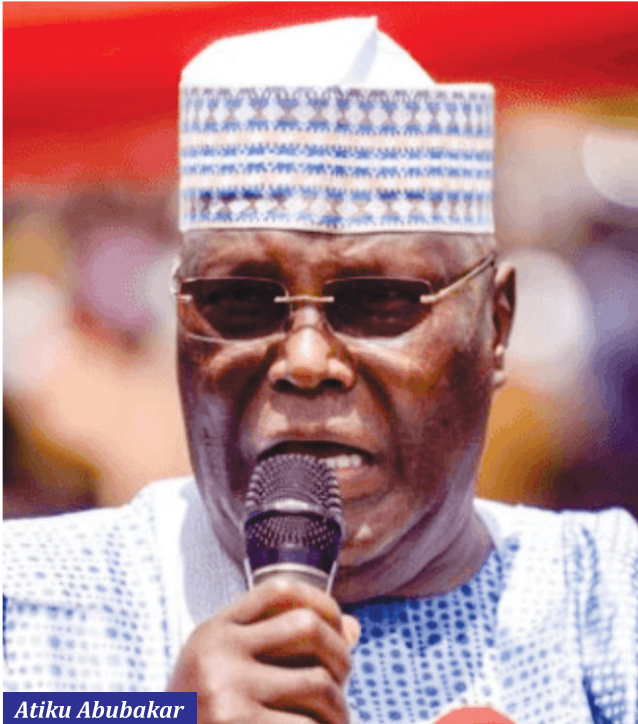

Buhari stated: "Pursuant to section 58(4) of Constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria 1999 (as amended), I hereby convey to the House of Representatives, my decision on 6th December 2018 to decline Presidential Assent to the Electoral (Amendment) Bill, 2018, passed by the National Assembly.

"I am declining assent to the Bill, principally, because I am concerned that passing a new electoral bill this far into the electoral process for the 2019 general elections, which commenced under the 2015 Electoral Act, could create some uncertainty about the applicable legislation to govern the process.

"Any real or apparent change to the rules this close to the election, may provide an opportunity for disruption and confusion in respect of which law governs the electoral process."

Significantly, the rejected amended Electoral Bill 2018 contained far-reaching provisions, one of which's the introduction of electronic transfer of election results, aimed at improving the credibility of the electoral process.

That's why critics were unsparing of Buhari, alleging that the transfer of poll results electronically would expose the manipulative tendency of the president's ruling party, the All Progressives Congress (APC), to retain power in 2019.

However, Buhari, facing no other election in his eight-year tenure that ends in May 2023, has signed the Electoral Act Amendment Bill into law in 2022, after an initial request for certain amendments to be effected by the National Assembly, headed by Senate President Ahmad Lawan.

The new Electoral Act contains further innovations relating to the use of technology in the electoral process. The Act empowers the INEC to decide on the use of technology during elections.

The innovations include the adoption of Bimodal Voter Accreditation System (BVAS) and INEC Result Viewing (IReV) portal, which involves electronic transfer of election results - that can be viewed real time - on election days.

So far, INEC has experimented with the technology in the isolated governorship elections in Edo, Anambra, Ekiti and Osun states, with encouraging results acceptable to many.

President Buhari, at the signing of the amended Electoral Act, declared: "It is gratifying to note that the current Bill comes with a great deal of improvement from the previous Electoral Bill 2021.

"There are salient and praiseworthy provisions that could positively revolutionize elections in Nigeria through the introduction of new technological innovations. These innovations would guarantee the constitutional rights of citizens to vote and to do so effectively.

"The Bill would also improve and engender clarity, effectiveness and transparency of the election process, as well as reduce to the barest minimum incidences of acrimony arising from dissatisfied candidates and political parties.

"These commendable efforts are in line with our policy to bequeath posterity and landmark legal framework that paves the way for a credible and sound electoral process that we would all be proud of.

"Distinguished Senators and Honourable Members of the National Assembly, from the review, it is my perspective that the substance of the Bill is both reformative and progressive.

"I am making this bold declaration because I foresee the great potentials of the Bill. Worthy of note include the democratic efficacy of the Bill with particular reference to sections 3, 9(2), 34, 41, 47, 84(9), (10) and (11) among others."

But being able to transmit election results electronically isn't a guarantee for free, fair, transparent and credible elections, as the average Nigerian politician has the tendency to manipulate and subvert the system.

Fears are already being expressed about possible manipulation of the election equipment by unscrupulous INEC officials doing the bidding of corrupt politicians.

There's a video trending on social media, claiming that the people seen in the film - reportedly INEC staff members - were imputing (uploading) PVC data into cellphones provided to them by politicians.

Peter Obi

Nobody is certain how this could be deployed in 2023 to replace, and/or manipulate the figures transmitted to the INEC server, but if the culprits are indeed INEC's staff, they must possess the back-end code to tweak the INEC server and change the uploaded results from the polling units.

If what happened in the mid 2022 Osun State governorship poll is any guide, the fear of electronically rigging the 2023 elections is real. The INEC allegedly had two sets of results in the Osun poll: The one declared following the close of the balloting, and another produced after about three weeks of the election, to cure the defects in the earlier declared results.

Perhaps, this is one of the grounds of the petition filed by the defeated APC and its candidate, former Governor Gboyega Oyetola, alleging over-voting in over 700 polling units in favour of the Peoples Democratic Party (PDP) and its candidate, Ademola Adeleke.

How can INEC, entrusted with the responsibility of conducting transparent and credible elections, produce two sets of results for the same election? Which one will the voters believe?

It's the first time Nigerians were made aware of such an electoral phenomenon. So, can the voters trust the electoral umpire to produce authentic results in future elections, especially for the make-or-mar 2023 exercise that's projected to deepen and consolidate Nigeria's democratic governance?

The spectre of electronically-manipulated poll results has virtually pushed to the background the incidence of physical attacks against political opponents, voters, poll workers and INEC facilities and equipment.

Killing of political leaders has been recurring since the First Republic, particularly the wanton destruction of life and property in the Western Region (South-West), which's cited as a reason for the first Military coup in 1966.

Political killings were also rampant in the Second and Fourth Republics, but have abated in recent times, even as attacks on INEC's offices, destruction of its documents, machines and PVCs have escalated, thereby posing a new dimension of electoral violence threatening the 2023 general election barely two and half months away.

Nonetheless, the INEC has given the assurance that the commission would reproduce the destroyed PVCs and other materials for the smooth conduct of the 2023 polls.

That said, only free, fair, credible and transparent elections can reflect the true wishes and expectations of the people, as contained in the innovations in the Electoral Act 2022. Therefore, Nigerians of whatever political leaning and persuasion should join the INEC to achieve this onerous, but laudable goal in 2023.

LFMA, LIMA 2022: Showcasing exceptional Talents for God

| Odunewu Olusegun |

THIS Loveworld Festival of Music and Arts, LFMA, and Loveworld International Music and Arts (LIMA) Awards 2022 could best be described as one of a kind; it was a manifestation of exceptional talents, ingenuity and genius at its extravagant best.

Thousands of people from over 50 countries gathered for the festival which was held from the 23rd to the 27th of November 2022 at the imposing Loveworld Crusade Grounds Asese, Lagos-Ibadan Expressway, and were thrilled beyond measure with rich displays of music, arts, sports, fashion and crafts for five days.

One of the highlights of the Loveworld Festival of Music and Arts 2022, was the daily open-air praise night sessions with the man of God Pastor Chris. It was a time to receive deep and accurate insight from the man of God about the true essence of worship and praise, beyond a religious activity done as a past-time in our churches.

To put things in proper perspective, the man of God after a series of music performances by the LoveWorld Singers and various Choirs on Saturday November 27, the Man of God said "We showed you different kinds of songs; songs to be sang in the church, songs for outreaches songs of comfort and more"

He said this to explain the purpose of the different songs and help the congregation understand better why every song doesn't qualify to be sung in our Churches.

Another major highlight of the festival was the carnival float that featured the different zones and regions of the Loveworld nation, reenacting stories and characters of the bible with rich and colorful costumes that contributed to the richness and overall experience of the epochal event.

The festival climaxed with the Loveworld International Music and Arts Award, a special event designed to celebrate and recognize the outstanding contributions of our artists and music ministers to the ministry's music and arts throughout the year. Individuals, groups, choirs and churches were recognized for different award categories.

For the first time since the Pastor Chris Oyakhilome's LoveWorld International Music and Arts Awards (LIMA) was instituted in 2017 to celebrate the extraordinary work of artistes and singers in the ministry, the 2022 edition celebrated a record breaking hundred songs.

Addressing a global audience, Pastor said the ministry is thankful that the Lord has graciously endowed the church with so many brothers and sisters who work hard every day to impact not just the church, but the world with their songs.

"Tonight, we are so grateful that the Lord has graciously given us so many of our brothers and sisters who work hard every day to make this dream come true. We have used their songs, we have enjoyed their music," Pastor Chris Oyakhilome stated before the awards were given.

Evangelist Kathy Woghiren won awards for Songwriter of the Year, Song of the Year and Hit Song of the Year.

Evangelist Kathy Woghiren, who is Pastor Chris Oyakhilome's sister, is the Director of the LoveWorld Music and Arts Ministry and the LoveWorld Creative Arts Academy.

Evangelist Kathy Woghiren also holds the position of Chairman of the LoveWorld Records Label and is an accomplished songwriter.

'Alabaster box' which clinched the Hit Song of the Year at LIMA 2022 is a timeless melody rich with gratitude to God for His exuberant display of love towards man.

Along with the trophy for the prestigious award are grand cash prizes of $100,000 for the songwriter, $25,000 for the lead singer, and 1 million naira each for every member of the choir that presented the song.

Also the duo of Oge and Maya David clinched the Female Vocalists of the Year Awards. The rich expression of their sonorous voices, on their timeless melodies, deservedly earned them the award among a keen set of nominees.

Harmony bagged the prestigious Child Artiste of the Year award. It was epochal as the young minister who marked his debut in this position, was clothed with joy unspeakable and joined by a team of well-wishers along the runway to gladly receive the coveted award from the man of God, Pastor Chris.

Also, prolific Loveworld Singer, Chookar was crowned Artiste of the Year. Accompanying her deserved trophy is also a $25,000 cash prize.

Mercy Tshiamo stood out as the Psalmist of the Year. The sonorous voice which backs his earnest recital of poetry earned him the distinguished award.

Pastor Chris Oyakhilome inspires us, our songs – 2022 LIMA Awards winners

They LoveWorld Singers were the cynosure of all eyes at the just concluded LIMA Awards, and they all attributed their successes to Pastor Chris Oyakhilome, President of Loveworld Incorporated. According to the Man of God, through worship songs, you set up an atmosphere for miracles in and around you, and create the right environment for the Spirit of God to operate.

I've learnt the deep importance of service in ministry - Maya

The Beginning

My encounter with Pastor Chris has shaped me into the lady I am today and his teachings and guidance has taken me to new heights and given me perspectives that no book can teach me

I did see myself doing this, because I confessed and made prophecies and it feels great to see that all the lord spoke to me about come to pass and more.

The Levitical Shift

In the past two years of my music life I have learnt the deep importance of service in ministry as a Levite, watched myself grow in the teachings of my dear man of God Pastor Chris.

I have improved in my music writing, and I now have a clearer understanding of how worship is supposed to be rendered in the house of God and how it's all about offering spiritual sacrifices to God the way he wants it. Indeed, it's been humbling and amazing to see the impact of the word in my life and in the lives of many through our music ministration as Loveworld singers.

Unforgettable Experience

My experience at the LFMA was exciting and I was blessed by the music ministration led by other choirs, it was a joyous experience seeing other choirs minister our songs; it was impactful with a reflection of what heaven would be like with the glamour and elegant display. Also, at the LIMA Awards it was glorious and amazing. I'm full of thanks to God for the awards; it makes me look forward to the return of our master and Lord Jesus and his words of "well done, faithful servant".

The joy of being rewarded for a job well done by Pastor Chris was priceless - Korede

First Encounter

My aspirations have always been to minister with the Man of God and bless the world at large. So, the first day I saw Pastor Chris in person, 16 feet away from me, was at a meeting held with the all-stars and I was privileged to be invited by the Esteemed Evangelist Kathy Woghiren.

It was like God seated right in front of me full of mercy and love. The meeting was so impactful and I still have my notes till date, a life changing meeting indeed it was.

The Pastor Chris Effect

Pastor has always taught us, as music ministers, that without the understanding of the word of God it will be quite uneasy to praise God with understanding. So, ever since my first encounter with the Man of God and several other meetings, I have grown increasingly with wisdom on how to write songs. The difference is when addressing God and talking about his deeds, the right usage of words and approach.

The Levitical Shift

I have always aspired to be here (this level). Sometimes I used to think "if wishes were horses" ..lol... but being a bonafide member of the Your Loveworld Special Singers is a maximum privilege, and I would say ministering with the Man of God every time is the best thing that has happened to me, and it won't stop.

The last two years or so of our music life have been most impactful: Special thanks to God for the Man of God and how Pastor saved a lot of us from drowning. A couple of years ago, musically, I wasn't there; in writing, I couldn't even say I knew all I was writing about.

But when the Man of God came with the new dispensation, extensive teaching and admonishing, it opened a new portal. It was like the void and null part of my senses was flushed out, and filled with wisdom and understanding. Now I'm able to tell from the first two lines of a song written by anyone and also proofread lyrics.

My Unforgettable LFMA and LIMA Awards 2022 Experience

It was a mind blowing experience for me, seeing thousands of people in a place all excited to do the work of the Lord, different sessions of entertainment, infotainments, very impactful and fun.

Fast-forward.... LIMA awards were anticipated, never for a second did I feel entitled or have a sense of deserving; I was absolutely happy for everyone called out to receive their awards, and the joy of being rewarded for a job well done by our man of God was priceless.

I anticipated climbing the stage and receiving my awards, but what I experienced when I was called for worship song of the year, song titled AWESOME MAJESTY, prolifically written by evangelist Kathy Woghiren, was extremely overwhelming, and I was speechless.

It was like a dream in reality, as if that was the end, then the song of the year, AH!! I admitted tearing up, because that was just too much for me to handle. And such privilege and opportunity was the first and best thing in my life - being celebrated globally, loved and appreciated.

What more could I ask for? And for this I'm extremely grateful and thankful to use this medium to express my profound gratitude to my father, mentor, life coach, chief musician, my pastor, Rev, Dr. Chris Oyakhilome DSc, DD., for his support and unwavering love for me, I'm deeply truly and extremely grateful.

God has done beyond my imagination by bringing me this close to Pastor Chris - Israel Osho

How it all started

I saw the man of God first on TV some years ago. As a teenager looking for true light and fellowship, I got fascinated by everything I saw. I didn't know he was a Nigerian because he didn't speak like one and certainly didn't act like those I knew. I have since been with him.

The Pastor Chris Effect

Pastor told us that great men are made by words, and the word of God he gave me and continues to give me made the difference in my life. He said to me years ago that "for my estate to change, my state of mind must change, first." I started meditating on the scriptures and I saw my life changing as I meditated on the Word. His message is also reflected in my Lyrics. Now, I write according to the word. What a blessing I have in my Father.

The Levitical Shift

I saw me ministering with my man of God but not in this capacity and not this closely. I feel like God has done beyond my imagination by bringing me this close to Pastor Chris - Apostle of our time.

In the last two years, the wisdom and knowledge that have come to me can't be quantified as they are much more than my mind can fathom. I have the correct knowledge about worship and Praise and I carry the consciousness of the Lord Jesus. Christ every time I minister.

My life has taken unprecedented upgrade - PU ...We no longer write songs for ourselves

Start of the Journey

I want to specially thank my Father and Man of God, Pastor Chris, for this opportunity. It's been an ongoing journey of unparalleled bliss. An ongoing journey of unlimited knowledge, growth, impact, learning, influence, grace, and glory ....the list goes on and on.

The Levitical Shift

My life has taken an unprecedented upgrade, working with my man of God in the LOVEWORLD singers group. I have had to debunk what I thought I knew about music and worship, when the Pastor started unveiling to us what true worship in the sanctuary is all about.

Now, we no longer write songs for ourselves, our satisfaction or our personal agenda, but we write songs that praise God in truth and in spirit. Songs that focus on the Lord Jesus and his lordship over the nations and over our lives.

My life has been transformed tremendously and my perspectives and priorities have completely changed in my work in the house of the Lord. I thank God especially for my man of God and for the opportunity to serve in God's house. I'm eternally grateful.

Pastor Chris: Teacher, Mentor, Leader, Thinker, Visioner

ALL through history, transformational leadership has always been built on ability to identify latent qualities in people and refine them into greatness. Jesus Christ was the first to turn ordinary downtrodden men and women into world champions. Another interesting story is that of Alexander the Great who once said that it was preferable to have an army of sheep led by a lion than to have an army of lions led by a sheep. He knew and understood the value of the active, 'intolerant', and courageous minority.

Hannibal terrorized Rome for a decade and a half with a tiny army of mercenaries, winning twenty-two battles against the Romans, battles in which he was outnumbered each time. He was inspired by a version of this maxim. At the battle of Cannae, when his chief commander Gisco complained to him that the Carthaginians were outnumbered by the Romans.

Hannibal looked straight into the eyes of his chief commander, Gisco and said: "Another thing that has escaped your notice, Gisco, is even more amazing: That, although there are so many of them, there is not one among them called Gisco. But we have Gisco, so we will outrun them".....That statement spurred Gisco to lead the men to victory damning all evident odds against them.

In the same vein, Pastor Chris Oyakhilome has raised men and women who initially never believed in themselves, but were pushed into the battlefield where they became world beaters because of the faith Pastor Chris has in them, the influence he has in their lives, the invaluable lessons he taught them, and setting them on the right pathway.

As the world celebrates his birthday, National Standard caught up with some of the pastors whose trajectory in life would have been very different if not that their paths crossed with that of Pastor Chris. Excerpts:

Pastor Chris' impact on this generation is unprecedented - Pastor Ewaen

Pastor Chris Made Me

I saw the man of God, Pastor Chris Oyakhilome, for the first time when I was 15 years old. I was officially introduced to him by the esteemed Reverend Tom Amenkhenan when I was 17 years old. At such a young age, though my mindset was still in its infancy, but his teachings over the years have shaped me into the person I am today. I was 21 years old when I got posted to Lagos for my Youth Service. It was worthwhile because I could attend the church services at Oyeleke Street (the venue at the time). I remember the first series I heard Pastor Chris preach -The Force of Righteousness." I was extremely relieved and happy to know that I was righteous. Pastor Chris upgraded, again and again, my knowledge of the Word through his teachings.

Supernatural Meetings

The Man of God's impact on this present generation has been unprecedented. He got the young ones and upwardly-mobile youth to commit their lives to Christ through programs like "Total Experience," "Charismatic Renewal Conferences," "Ladies and Men in Ministry," "Atmosphere For Miracles," Healing From Heaven," "Night of Bliss," "Higher Life Conferences" etc.

The World's Compass

In recent years, he has been the spokesperson for the Spirit of God to expose the plan of the antichrist spirit to destroy lives using the fiasco/debacle called COVID-19. He also taught the Church how to truly worship; while teaching about the signs of the end times. This was much needed, because the Church seemed to have given heed to a worldly and fleshly spirit. Pastor Chris has become God's voice to leaders of nations and to countless number of voices all around the world, thereby saving them from death and bondage.

Global Impacts of His Teachings

Pastor Chris has been a blessing to the world through his teaching of the Word, especially his teachings on New Creation Realities. Pastor Chris has brought healings, changed destinies, stopped pandemics in their tracks and snatched back lost souls on the precipice of hell. He has restored joy and peace to families through the ministry of the Word, especially through the daily devotional, Rhapsody of Realities, which by the way has been translated into every known language of the world! Pastor Chris has been the guiding light not only to presidents, kings and rulers, but also to the common man. His teachings are much sought after, because they're life-

His passion for the Holy Spirit

Once, at a program he organised at the indoor sports hall of the National Stadium in Lagos, he broke down in tears as he told the crowd that he hoped that when he sees the Lord Jesus, he would be able to say that he tried; that he gave his best in doing what he was sent to do. That had me groaning for years, and it helped me decide for myself to give my all. Thank God for a man so gifted and favored by God for this generation. Thank God I met him and I'm serving under him. I join others to celebrate and wish him a happy birthday.

- Pastor Ewaen Temisan, is Zonal Pastor, Christ Embassy South West Zone 3

Pastor Chris has made a mark that will be recognised in eternity - Pastor Airen

How Pastor Impacted My Life

First, I'd like to thank the Lord for orchestrating my path and guiding me to meet the man of God, Pastor Chris. I'd also like to thank Pastor Chris for all that he has blessed me with through the years—they are indeed unquantifiable.

Anyone who meets with the man of God, at whatever point in life, would certainly have an upgrade in their thinking and quality of life, and that's been my experience.

His Impact on This Generation

Pastor Chris' impact actually transcends this generation. He has made a mark that will be recognised even in eternity. Our man of God, as a lone voice, literally hushed Satan's agenda and ensured that the course of this world stays in the direction of God's will as expressed in Bible prophecies. Pastor is God's choice apostle for this final lap in the time of the Church and he is truly leading valiantly, by precept and example.

Global Impact

What would you say about one who has a material that speaks to all people all over the world in the language of their hearts with several billions distributed? What would you say about one who organises programs where billions are blessed and many are healed by the power of God? What about his teachings that resonate with nobles and common people alike. What about the humanitarian acts: free schools for indigent children and support programs for their parents, financial grants for young people, and so much more. The man of God Pastor Chris touches the spirit, soul and body; a glorious blessing to the world indeed!

On meeting Pastor Chris

Pastor Chris has impacted my life in several major ways and areas: First, he has impacted my love for the Lord, for His work, and for the selfless life for the Gospel, giving me the desire to walk in the fullness of its blessings. Now, helping others to come into the reality of the Gospel is a passion that has rubbed off on me from the man of God. Today, soul-winning and development are my major life hobbies.

The Ministry of Pastor Chris

Pastor Chris has proven to be a man sent from God by his apostolic credentials, prophetic utterances, declarations, and his foresight of things that are to come to pass. By explaining the stratagems of the devil, his agents, and their line of action, Pastor Chris helped the nations come out of fear and the almost successful attempt of a global reset.

Pastor's Global Impact

Pastor Chris has been a tremendous blessing to the world, especially in making the Gospel of God's grace available in every format and every known language. Truth has been unveiled, and many ministries have been transformed as well as the lives of many ministers. The TV ministry penetrates hitherto-blocked nations, thus making the truth of God's word available to every age group. Pastor engages the youth, children, and preachers' kids. He teaches them the right way to praise and the right use of music. We now have Healing streams in every home, with 7 billion viewers in a single night! This could only have been by God... Pastor breaks all limitations with the Gospel and for the Gospel... It just keeps getting bigger.

As an Apostle of Christ

I have been with Pastor Chris for 30 years now. He loves the Lord without reservation or inhibition and he's focused on what the Lord wants him to do. Pastor believes the Word of God in its entirety!

Encountering Pastor Chris

You can't be listening or being around our Man of God and not be "infected" with love for our Master. It's impossible to come in contact with our Man of God and not be transformed. The communication of the Word, through the Rhapsody of Realities, numerous messages on pcdl, Your LoveWorld specials and various programs with our Man of God over the years, has made a tremendous impact in my life. I'm simply not the same person. One thing the Man of God taught us, as the most important thing, is to find the purpose and fulfil it. Today, I can confidently say that because of my encounter with Pastor, I found my course and I'm following it!

A Gift to This Generation

Pastor Chris is having a tremendous impact on this generation. Firstly, his prophetic utterances shaped the road in which the world was going since 2020. He took charge and taught the Church to take authority over their respective countries and territories.
